

HAVILAND CHINA.

637 BLUE

No. 528

W.C. GOLDHANDLE

We do not claim to control the whole Haviland output, or to be the only house that "imports" Haviland's ware; but we do claim to IMPORT DIRECT and to give you as much Haviland, as well as other China, for ONE DOLLAR, as you were able to get here for TWO DOLLARS before we "woke 'em up" with our new China Department. We are told by customers every day that our line is handsome, that one can find a better variety of pattern, AND MORE OF THEM, than elsewhere in the city. We are naming prices on all kinds of dinner ware. In fact, in particular, that is SELLING THEM EVERY DAY. It is pretty hard on the "other fellow" but we can't help it now. WE ARE "IN IT" TO STAY. Come and compare our "dollar's worth" with the size of a "dollar's worth" to be had elsewhere.

A correspondent to the Bloomington Pantagraph from Atlanta, Ill., writes: "The many friends of Rev. James Miller and wife, of Decatur, were pained to hear of the death of their son, Wednesday, Rev. James Miller was formerly pastor of the Methodist church here."

How to save money is a problem that interests everybody. One way, to do it is to investigate the system with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Being a highly concentrated blood medicine, it is the most powerful and economical. It is sold for a dollar, but worth five.

Thus afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock, Mrs. J. H. Bevans, Mrs. W. O. Miller and Miss Abbie Pratt are giving a reception to the lady members of the Congrega-tional church at the residence of J. H. Bevans, on West William street. Re-freshments were served to the callers.

Ed McDONALD, a Washab brakeman, while working at Taylorville to-day dis-located his left knee. The company's surgeon at that place dressed the injury and he came to this city. The limb was still hurting him so badly that he called on the local Washab surgeon, Dr. W. B. Hostetter, who gave him the best possi-ble attention.

In the county court last evening the will of the late Thomas Wilson was filed for probate and contents disclosed. D. L. Bunn and Sarah Wilson are the ex-ecutors in bond of $10,000. The widow is given the real estate, four houses and lots on Central Avenue, and all personal property, except money in bank and securities. The money and securities aggregate $9,000, which is to be invested and given to Thomas W. Oakes, the grandson, when he shall have reached 25 years of age. The entire estate is valued at about $20,000.

HON. D. P. KELDER, of Macon, who with Captain Keyton, of McLean county, and Ezra Marquis, attended the Farmers' National Congress at Sedalia, Mo., this week, arrived in Decatur this morning. There were about 150 repre-sentative farmers present from 30 states in the east, north and south. Inter-esting papers were read and resolutions were adopted recommending the im-provement of certain rivers, better rail-road transportation and lower rates and a general reduction of taxes to the lowest possible point consistent with the per-fect management of the government.

Mrs. Hines (reading)—"Is it not per-missible to pass the plate a second time?" Hike—"I should say not; especially in church."

"Dol" Peck's Plunge Off the Pres-byterian Mission Church.
This afternoon R. O. Peck, of Carro Gordo, a carpenter employed in the con-struction of the new Presbyterian mission church, corner of West Macon street and Haworth avenue, had a narrow escape from death. He was sitting on a plank working on the lower of the mission when the plank parted and "Dol" went rolling down the west valley of the steep roof, falling off to the ground below, plunging a distance of about 30 feet. He fell partly on his back, but fortunately he suffered no very serious injury. He was taken into the Baldrige residence, where he remained until he recovered from the shock of the fall, and then he returned to church, got his dinner pail and walked off down town to his board-ing place at the Globe Hotel. Mr. Peck was not hurt, except in the region of the hip. He feels very sore in that part of the anatomy. He may be able to resume work to-morrow.

H. Grant Waggoner, conductor on sleeping car run between Chicago and New York City, arrived in the city last evening from Buffalo, N. Y., to remain with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Waggoner, until he recovers his health. In some unknown manner he injured the leg in his left foot on his last trip, which has since laid him up. He is ex-pected to move about with the aid of crutches. It will be a month before he recovers the use of that member.
A Handsome Window.
Otto E. Curtis & Bro. have recently crowded back enough goods in their greatly crowded store to enable them to enlarge their west side window. It is now "dramatic" entirely new goods from their Art Room, on second floor. If you have never been in their Art Room, you will be tempted to go there if you look at this beautiful window.
No Names—No Gloves.
A rather impromptu anti-Maque-of-Queensbury fight occurred on East Caro Gordo street last evening between an American express clerk and a Pacific ex-press messenger, in which the former came out second best. It seems there was an old grudge existing between the two men and their friends have been ex-pecting the "scrup" for some time. The names and the extent of the injuries are withheld from publication.
A Card.
ED. REPUBLICAN.—Sir: If the A. M. E. people and pastor objected to that class of an entertainment in their church, they ought to have done so before the bills were published; then there would have been no mistake about the place. Jo-Jo Bishop said the A. M. E. church gave him permission to have his entertainment there first, and for some cause changed their minds and gave an entertainment themselves of some kind.
G. M. Moore, Pastor Antioch Baptist Church.
Togged Him Out.
Passenger Director T. W. Douglas and Engineer Mike Taggart have gone into the dine manufacturing business with capital unlimited. Douglas is the inside man while Taggart operates on the out-side principally. It was only this morn-ing that some poor, weather-beaten, ex-hausted old tramp, ragged and torn, came into the depot and sat down upon the floor. He was a sight. His condition was pitiable, to say the least, and it was this fact that melted the hearts of the firm of Douglas & Taggart. Taggart lost no time in going to his room and getting an old overcoat and other articles of wearing apparel. He returned to the depot and presented the goods to the wayfarer in a heart-touching speech. Then Douglas got him a hat and a cup of coffee and something to eat. The change was marvelous. When by the application of food and coffee the man was able to stand on his feet and put on the overcoat he made a right respectable appearance. Of course the man has many friends and acquaintances who will be glad to learn of his streak of good fortune, and Douglas & Taggart will un-doubtedly be kept busy throughout the winter.

THE FIRST BOMB-THROWERS
Another Police Raid on the Chi-cago Anarchists.
TOO MUCH SURPRISED FOR RESISTANCE
Thirty of the More Rabid Arrested and Locked Up, Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapons and Making Inflammatory Speeches.
Chicago, Nov. 13.—One hundred police-men, under the leadership of In-spector Lewis, marched down upon an anarchist meeting in Grief's hall at 54 West Lake street last night. The mo-ment the first squad of police, headed by Lieut. Wheeler, burst in upon the anarchists, a man named Daniel Sut-ter, reached for a revolver in his hip pocket, but before he could use it officers overpowered and disarmed him. Sutter made a desperate resistance, hitting and kicking the of-ficers until the irons were put on his wrists and he was hustled off to the Desplaines-street station, fighting like a madman all the way. The twenty-five or thirty other anarchists, who were sitting in the bar room tied to force their way out to the street, but were prevented by the police. Every man was then searched for weapons. While this was going on another squad of police dashed up the narrow hallway into the hall above. "The police are coming, lock the door," shouted a man in the meeting on the second floor. The door was quickly barred, and the twenty-five men assembled in this story little hall making inflammatory speeches waited for the attack.
Only one man here made any resis-tance. His name was Henry Miller, "D," the police he shouted. "They are cowards or else they would not draw their revolvers upon innocent men."
Two officers, named Miller and searched him. He had a big revolver and fought desperately before it could be taken away from him. Several copies of the speech delivered by Har-son on the night of the bomb-throwing in Haymarket square were found in a box in the hall.
After the building had been thor-oughly searched about thirty of the more rabid anarchists were taken to the station. Some of them were looked for carrying concealed weapons, and others for making inflammatory speeches calculated to incite to riot.

What a Leader Can Do.
Buffalo Express: Major McKinley's splendid victory in Ohio shows what the Republican party can do when well or-ganized and well led. Ohio is much more of a Republican State than New York, but Gov. Campbell was personally very popular and a hard man to beat. No other man than McKinley could have fought him so well. New York Republi-cans have reason to envy this the po-pular session of such a man. If we had him in this State we should no longer be making the excuse that New York is a Democratic State, anyhow. This is said without any disparagement to the young leader who has so gallantly carried the Republican standard. He has come out of the fight with honor. He has been made greater by defeat. But he was handicapped by his friends.

Will Take It If Offered.
One hundred and fifty of Chicago's prominent business men, with a sprink-ling of Illinois politicians, assembled yester-day to consider the ways and means for capturing the Republican National Convention for Chicago. After some dis-cussion it was decided, in deference to the courtesy shown by other sections of the country in adding Chicago to secure the World's Fair, that no contest should be made in behalf of that city, but if the national committee selects Chicago will liberally provide for the convention.

Temperance at the Court House.
The Court room was crowded again last night and the meeting was most interesting one. Short speeches were made by several of "the boys," which were followed by earnest short-talks by Rev. King and Rev. Benedict and others. Mr. Dunn then took hold and said some-thing to the boys that were worth worth hearing and listening; the singing gave better every night, and the audience is on the increase. Meeting to-night and every night until further notice.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—One hundred police-men, under the leadership of In-spector Lewis, marched down upon an anarchist meeting in Grief's hall at 54 West Lake street last night. The mo-ment the first squad of police, headed by Lieut. Wheeler, burst in upon the anarchists, a man named Daniel Sut-ter, reached for a revolver in his hip pocket, but before he could use it officers overpowered and disarmed him. Sutter made a desperate resistance, hitting and kicking the of-ficers until the irons were put on his wrists and he was hustled off to the Desplaines-street station, fighting like a madman all the way. The twenty-five or thirty other anarchists, who were sitting in the bar room tied to force their way out to the street, but were prevented by the police. Every man was then searched for weapons. While this was going on another squad of police dashed up the narrow hallway into the hall above. "The police are coming, lock the door," shouted a man in the meeting on the second floor. The door was quickly barred, and the twenty-five men assembled in this story little hall making inflammatory speeches waited for the attack.
Only one man here made any resis-tance. His name was Henry Miller, "D," the police he shouted. "They are cowards or else they would not draw their revolvers upon innocent men."
Two officers, named Miller and searched him. He had a big revolver and fought desperately before it could be taken away from him. Several copies of the speech delivered by Har-son on the night of the bomb-throwing in Haymarket square were found in a box in the hall.
After the building had been thor-oughly searched about thirty of the more rabid anarchists were taken to the station. Some of them were looked for carrying concealed weapons, and others for making inflammatory speeches calculated to incite to riot.

What a Leader Can Do.
Buffalo Express: Major McKinley's splendid victory in Ohio shows what the Republican party can do when well or-ganized and well led. Ohio is much more of a Republican State than New York, but Gov. Campbell was personally very popular and a hard man to beat. No other man than McKinley could have fought him so well. New York Republi-cans have reason to envy this the po-pular session of such a man. If we had him in this State we should no longer be making the excuse that New York is a Democratic State, anyhow. This is said without any disparagement to the young leader who has so gallantly carried the Republican standard. He has come out of the fight with honor. He has been made greater by defeat. But he was handicapped by his friends.

Will Take It If Offered.
One hundred and fifty of Chicago's prominent business men, with a sprink-ling of Illinois politicians, assembled yester-day to consider the ways and means for capturing the Republican National Convention for Chicago. After some dis-cussion it was decided, in deference to the courtesy shown by other sections of the country in adding Chicago to secure the World's Fair, that no contest should be made in behalf of that city, but if the national committee selects Chicago will liberally provide for the convention.

Temperance at the Court House.
The Court room was crowded again last night and the meeting was most interesting one. Short speeches were made by several of "the boys," which were followed by earnest short-talks by Rev. King and Rev. Benedict and others. Mr. Dunn then took hold and said some-thing to the boys that were worth worth hearing and listening; the singing gave better every night, and the audience is on the increase. Meeting to-night and every night until further notice.

Now you know that Ferriss & Lapham always sell your shoes cheap. But all past prices are gone in it compared with the low prices which they are now offer-ing. They must turn their present whole-sale stock into cash before January 1 and they have to sell the bulk of it at retail in Decatur. Better go there and buy now. Nothing like getting a pair of shoes at half price when you can get Ferriss & Lapham, 144 East Main street.
